IDEAS.

No help can take the place of self help.

Without difficulties greatness is impossible.

True manhood never loses anything by hard competition. The chick helped out of its shell never lives to eat old corn.

Experience is a dear teacher, but her diploma means something.

What character is to-day depends on what it did with yesterday.

Whatever is done that takes effort to do helps to make the man.

Adversity has done more for some people than the university has for -Ram's Horn. others.

The Wide World.

The indications are that the British in Africa will soon make a determined attempt to relieve Ladysmith and Kimberly. Though all is quiet at present, large operations are expected soon at Colesburg and Colenso. No change in the situation at drawn from Northwest Canada to serve in South Africa and an uprising of Indians is feared.
